Ontario Chamber Dedicates Bench – Memorial Day, 2019

At the Memorial Day ceremony held at the American Legion Post at 6180 Knickerbocker Rd., on May 27, 2019 the Ontario Chamber presented a park-style bench to the Meyers-Ingraham Post #428. Jim Switzer, Chamber Treasurer, dedicated the bench. (dedication speech see page #2)

The bench is six foot in length and made from recycled plastic materials such as water bottles and detergent bottles. This is a new program by the Ontario Chamber that allows a partnership with the chamber and a family/individual, business, or organization to purchase a bench. A bench can be purchased in memory of a loved one or as a business/organization promotion supporting our community. If you would like more details about the program please call the chamber office, (315) 524-5886 or email Donna Burolla, President, at dburolla@gmail.com.

Jim Switzer's dedication: "On May 30, 1868, John A. Logan, Commander in Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued a General Order that designated May 30, 1868 for the purpose of strewing of flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country in the Civil War (hence the beginning of Decoration Day). Commander Logan also expressed the hope that his tradition would continue from year to year to recognize in a visible and tangible manner the ideals of freedom and democracy that these comrades sacrificed on behalf of the freedom of their country, their families and the nation.

Today, it is my honor and privilege to continue this "visible and tangible recognition" of those who gave their lives in the form of this park-style bench – constructed of recycled materials – with the plaque: "In Honor of All Who Served, Meyers-Ingraham American Legion Post 428, by the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, Inc." and do so in tribute to two members of my family who served in WW II – my dad, the late Jack Switzer, a local Walworth high school then Wayne Central teacher who entered service from Rochester (and brought me here nearly 70 years ago), and his cousin, the late John Joseph Switzer, Jr. who also entered service from Rochester and was killed in a war plane crash in North Africa in 1947."

Business of the Month
Jeffers & Birnie, Certified Public
Accountants
1454 NYS Rt. 104
Ontario, NY 14519

Ontario's May Business of the Month highlights Jeffers Birnie, Certified Public Accountants, PC., residing at 1454 NYS Rt. 104, Ontario (Howard Hanna building). Contact information: Phone: 315-524-7693 or 585-352-2900, FAX: 315-524-9708.

Scott D. Bernie is the company President, maintaining 37 years in the accounting industry. Jeffers Bernie, employs 2 to 3 people in the Ontario branch. Bernie's team also serves Monroe County, out of their Spencerport, NY office. Originally Bernie began his career working for Fred Stoffell, where he was introduced to Mike Jeffers. Together they branched out and opened the Spencerport office. In 1995 Jeffers procured a place in Ontario, on Slocum Rd, because it would be closer to home and family. The partners resided there until 2018. Succeeding Jeffers retirement, the office moved to their current location, next to Howard Hanna Realty.

Bernie's exemplary education history includes, graduating from the University of Brockport, and RIT with a Masters in Accounting. He attained his CPA within the NYS Education Department. Bernie is also "linked in" business with his son Matthew, who also has attained his CPA and Masters. Bernie is quite proud of his son and states, "My son Matthew is in business with me, he previously worked with a financial company for about 2.5 years, in Chicago. When Mike Jeffers retired Matt joined the company and will be our company's future. He knows a lot about technology and embraces it."

Bernie's knowledge and interest in accounting and finance, is the foundation for his success. However, helping patrons achieve their goals is a core priority within their business model. "We develop an accounting system that works for our clients." The systems are established mostly for local sole proprietors. "We do not work with publicly traded companies." Their client list includes a few large clients in agriculture and construction and a number of nonprofit organizations as well as compiling individual income tax returns. Their business offerings encompass; accounting, banking, bookkeeping, finance, and outsourcing (referrals for payroll services and retirement planning).

Bernie stays current on government tax changes and provisions while maintaining 40 hours of continuing education per year. As Bernie stated, "Success is helping customers obtain their goals. Everyone wants to increase their wealth but everyone also wants to be happy with what they are doing because they will be doing it for a long time."

For Bernie, inspiration in business and life is attributed to his father. "My father was my greatest influence, always working hard and accomplishing what he wanted to. He provided for his family. I echo my dad's accomplishments regarding family and home. In business, It takes a lot of hard work to become successful. The hours spent working are not just 9 to 5. Though you must stick to your business plan, one cannot be too rigid, in order to change course if things are not working. Listen to the voice of your customer and integrate that into your business."

"We really enjoy working within the Ontario community and long term, we hope to expand the Ontario office."

“Come Grow With Us”

Their tagline captures the spirit of their farm, inviting the community to come “Grow with us”. Earl and Lindsay LaMora are partners in their fresh fruit and vegetable farm, which they have been “growing” for the past 11 years.

Also growing together is their lovely family; children Ava (12), Chase (7) and Elle (almost 2). The LaMora’s initiated their venture by renting 5 acres in North Rose, NY. Neither of their parents were farmers (which is a unique situation). Their primary tractor was a 1950 open-cab Ford, and along with it, the LaMora’s welcomed the challenges farming presents. Since their first season they continued to rent additional acres and made the “big” transition ownership in 2013 when they purchased their home farm here in Ontario, now totaling over 100 acres. The LaMora team has a professional background; Lindsay, with a degree in marketing and Spanish and Earl, in business. Through college (and still today) they both work for an orchard consulting business and have a long history of ties to the agricultural community. With Earl’s passion for growing produce and Lindsay’s love for sales and marketing they progressed into a much-needed offering within our town and Wayne County.

“The Garden Gazebo is open from dawn to dusk, 7 days per week from June through November.” The Gazebo is 100% self-serve, with payment in cash or check. A collection of recipes is always available as a courtesy to customers. They also provide U-Pick strawberries, peaches, apples, pumpkins in season. The LaMora’s sell a large variety of their apples commercially to fresh fruit buyers and processors. Their high-quality peaches, sweet cherries and strawberries, provide both whole-sale and retail avenues, while supporting the local food hub and farmers markets. In all, the LaMora’s grow more than 30 different commodities of vegetables and fruit including, but not limited to strawberries, apples, peaches, plums, nectarines, cherries, raspberries, squash, broccoli, peppers, eggplant, beets, beans and a variety of leafy greens. They are CSA (community supported agriculture) benefactors, debuting their unique “Garnish and Gather” spin on the philosophy, and quickly sold out shares for their opening season. Share and non-share customers may come to the open gazebo any time to shop, a full selection is available 7 days a week. The LaMora’s “like to grow what people want” and continually petition feedback from their customers to improve. Integrity and true grit capture much of the LaMora tradition. Their farming practices are exemplary. They pass regular food safety audits, and practice IPM (integrated pest management) and sustainability. As stated by the LaMora’s, “We strive to grow the highest quality fruits and vegetables, with the most conservative inputs.” Along their path to success there have been setbacks and hardships, a byproduct of farming, but they have a whole group of people behind them.

“They say it takes a village to raise a child and by the same token it takes a community to grow a farm. We are constantly humbled and inspired by how much this community has embraced and supported us,” replies Lindsay. Farming in itself is a labor of love and hard work, and the LaMora’s inspiration to succeed and prosper, is reflected in their children. “It is important to us that they see the value of working towards a goal. We hope they learn to go after their interests and dreams no matter how difficult the road ahead is.”

A final message the LaMora’s would like to close with, regarding small business in general, is the importance of supporting local. The number of farms keeps dwindling as consolidation continues to swallow up the traditional family farm structure our country was built on. They urge people to “buy local, to keep agriculture strong in your communities.” When asked about their hopes for the future their answer was simple: “We just hope we are still here in 5 to 10 years. Because nothing in farming is a guarantee.” Website: www.lamorafarms.com
